The role of «foreign language» in cadets' patriotic education at the Institute of border service of the Republic of Belarus

Кравцевич Г. Т., курсант IV к. ИПС РБ, науч. рук. преп. Михайлова Н. А.

Patriotism and civic consciousness are essential part of our world view, our attitude to the Motherland, other nations and people. Deep devotion to the Motherland is based on patriotism, public spirit, and civic consciousness. They strengthen peoples' responsibility for the independence of the country and its future. We adopt the responsibility for the state economic and cultural heritage. At the same time we cultivate our dignity and self-confidence. Patriotism is love for your country and loyalty towards it. Patriotism is a habit, we should cultivate it.

Even in ancient times people knew that public spirit, and civic consciousness was the foundation of patriotism. Platon thought that breeding of law-abiding citizens (men who would never betray the country no matter what they would be offered, under a delusion or being forced by violence and intimidation of opposition leaders) must be the main mission of any country. Aristotle believed the term «civic consciousness» meant a participation in disputes over public wellbeing. He called «citizens» only those who attended trials and People's Assembly. He discriminated between citizens and other people.

Nowadays breeding of law-abiding citizens is dire necessity due to increasing threat of national extremism in our society, moral values have been changed; young people are accused in spiritual impoverishment, aggression, and reappraisal of life values.

We can't create a fair, democratic, law-governed state without the Man with a high level of patriotism, public spirit, and civic consciousness. In contrast with the past it isn't enough to be just a good person, qualified specialist. Our developing state needs high educated, morally pure and socially stable citizens. The men, who can make a responsible decision themselves, forecast the consequences of it and suffer the consequences of their activity, feel involvement in prosperous future of the country. Civic consciousness and patriotic education creates a person who should fulfill his patriotic duty. It fosters love for the state symbols (the Flag and Emblem of the Republic of Belarus), heroic and historical past, cultural heritage of his nation, natural inclination towards the mother tang, and picturesque sights. As a result, civic consciousness and patriotic education favours of reunification of all citizens no matter of their nationality, religion, and political views. Patriotic education consolidates the society for Belarusian prosperity.

But patriotism and civic consciousness have nothing with closure in narrow national interests. They are inseparably linked with the culture of intercultural relations. It's impossible to reach consensus between people who can't understand each other, because of cultural diversities. We should admit that using a foreign language is a part of our current life and intercultural cooperation. Cadets of the Institute of Border Service of Republic of Belarus as well as officers have no rights to offend guests of our country, that's why we must know cultural specifics of neighbouring states. Cadets are taught to compare specific features of a foreign culture with the same features of our culture in order to develop our skills at intercultural cooperation. Such extensive knowledge makes cooperation with representatives of contiguous border services easier. We have an academic discipline «Foreign Language» where we are introduced with: geographical location of the Republic of Belarus, places of interest of Belarus, scientific life of the Republic of Belarus, the customs and traditions of Belarus, mass media in Belarus. Also we learn the same information about neighbouring countries and English-speaking states. In addition; we have to: know the history of border service of the Republic of Belarus and neighbouring countries and English-speaking states; compare the main tasks of our service and other countries; understand judicial and political systems; be able to speak about national symbols. Patriotic education provides cadets with the knowledge about the latest scientific achievements, cultural and economic innovations of our country, and our history. Cadets' Patriotic education is based on detailed information about battle traditions of border guards, national customs and cultural heritage of the nation. Furthermore «Foreign language» gives us an opportunity to see foreign countries' culture from inside, and it gives us skills to understand the way of aliens' thinking, cooperate with our international partners and colleges. In other words a foreign language forms a high cultural, morally stable and tolerant person.

On our 70th anniversary of the Great Victory in the Great Patriotic War it is very important to show future officers of border service that for the prosperity of our state it is not enough to be a specialist in one subject. We must always upgrade our skills to pay the debt of honour to those who paid their life for our freedom.
